

Dear friend,

This is an exciting time for the work of Street Angels - CNI Network as later this week Paul and Jean Blakey along with Steve and Hazel Brock have a reception with the Prime Minister at Number 10. To celebrate this, and some changes that have taken place (see below), we are writing this to help re-launch and strengthen our work.

BIG SOCIETY AWARDS 2012

* A new group of trustees are in place (Sara Barrie from Headingley Street Angels, Trevor Bendrien from Halifax Street Angels, Steve Brock from Stockton Town Pastors, Andy Burns from Street Chaplains Dundee and Major Paul McNally from the Salvation Army) and they are supported by an increasing number of Regional Leaders (see www.cninetwork.org.uk for details).

* Adam May is moving away from CNI and is set to work on a new initiative with another organisation - we are sure you join us in thanking him for all he has done to develop our work and wish him well in his new career and also as a Dad (Becky is expecting in September...)

* Paul is stepping back from Halifax Street Angels in order to work full time on CNI Network. Since last December, 22 new projects have fully or part launched and there is an increase in the work and potential work across the five strands - a full time worker will enable this to happen.

CNI Network is committed to partnering with God, volunteers, local projects, partners and others to help make the difference in community after community. With over 100 local projects in England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Isle of Man, Europe and Australia, CNI is a great way of speaking as one voice for those engaged within the night-time economy. The Big Society Award is an accolade to the work that is carried out and shows the strength that comes when we join as one.

We are inviting each local project and partners, if they can, to stand with us through prayer and finance to help the future of CNI. Our income for 2011/12 was £9423.50 and between Halifax Street Angels and CNI Network only managed to pay Paul less than £7000 over the year. Realistically this cannot continue and we are asking if your steering group or trustees would consider a minimum £200 annual donation (or £3.85 a week!) towards the work of CNI Network.

We hope that you share the value of the Street Angels - CNI Network and that you will invest your prayers, news, vision and finance into the future.

Paul, the Trustees and Regional Leadership Team are here for you - God bless in all you do...
